

KENTUCKY BOARD OF ARCHITECTS

Jill Lewis Smith,
AIA, NCARB
President,
KY Board of Architects

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear Members and Friends,

I greatly appreciate the opportunity to serve as the president of the Board this year. The future is bright for Architects and Certified Interior Designers. This is an incredible time to be working as a design professional in Kentucky, more construction is underway than at any time in the history of our state! The largest hurdle we face is fulfilling the growing needs for our services with high quality professional work. Many firms are constantly looking for professional staff. The numbers in Kentucky show that less than 25% of people licensed to work here reside here. All indicators show that we need more licensed professionals in Kentucky.

Ten years ago, the total number of Architects was dwindling at an alarming pace nationwide. A variety of efforts reversed this trend; we enjoy an increase in licensed Architects by about 20% in the past decade. Now more than 120,000 licensed Architects are in the USA. So how do we continue this trend and expand to meet the growing need for professionals.

“One solution to find more professionals may be to find NAAB accredited university program graduates and look at ways to pull them back into our profession.*”

The National Council of Architecture Registration Boards (NCARB) is constantly improving the testing process and monitoring candidates’ performance on the ARE®. To this end, NCARB has rolled out practice exams for the first time this year. The improvement in candidate scores is impressive. This hasn’t made the test easier; it made study more straight forward and the type of testing easier to understand. Many other factors are constantly being analyzed; this single effort has had a tremendous positive impact.

One solution to find more professionals may be to find NAAB accredited university program graduates and look at ways to pull them back into our profession. A major area of concern is the lack of diversity in the ranks of licensed Architects here in Kentucky. Women make up less than 12% of our licensees. This is far better than 20 years ago when women made up less than 1% of licensees in Kentucky, but it isn’t keeping pace with women graduating. Women are attending and graduating from accredited architecture programs at almost 50%, yet women are not pursuing careers in Architecture at the same rate as men. They must have been passionate about Architecture to complete a degree; how can we bring them back to the profession?

It is impossible to say how many minorities are in our ranks as almost 16% of licensees have not divulged this information. We do know that at least 82% of licensees in Kentucky are white.

The Board of Architects’ staff and I will more actively be searching for Kentucky candidates who may have graduated from a NAAB accredited program but are not pursuing licensure. Should you know someone who is working in a different profession or for any reason isn’t pursuing a license please let us know so we can assist them in better understanding the process available. Our goal is to help candidates and licensees fulfill the construction industry needs and better serve the health, safety, and welfare of the public. This will benefit all Kentuckians with a wider variety of qualified professionals working here.

NCARB is actively looking at alternative methods to licensure. There are a few committees charged with exploring different aspects of this. Several of our Kentucky current and past board members are deeply engaged in this work on NCARB committees and we hope to be able to share more with you in the coming year.

In November the NCIDQ annual meeting will be held in Louisville! Several of our Board members will be attending. We will be thoughtfully considering Interior Design in Kentucky and I hope to bring more information to you in the next quarterly newsletter.

Kindest Regards,

BOA President

Taking Care Of Business

JULY BOARD MEETING BRIEF

The BOA Summer Board Meeting was held July 18, at the University of Louisville Conference Center on the ShelbyHurst Campus in Louisville. Chad Beyer of i5 Design Group in Paducah, Kentucky, was introduced as the new CID Board member, replacing Stephanie McCrery.

The International Interior Design Association (IIDA) UPDATE

Katie Pitts presented at the July BOA meeting. IIDA is trying to fill several open volunteer positions on their board for the following: advocacy, membership, and an event coordinator role. They are still planning upcoming events, such as the Design Awards on November 2, 2023, which will hopefully be held at the Louisville Botanical Gardens. The event will host a discussion with high-level professionals to receive feedback and gauge what those goals will mean for the profession in the future. They have approximately 100 financially active members. To apply for IIDA membership: Membership | IIDA

NCARB Annual Business Meeting UPDATE

The Annual Business Meeting was held in Tampa, FL from June 15th to the 17th. Jill Smith served as the Kentucky delegate. She was elected Regional Vice Chair of Region 4. The meeting provided a forum for NCARB members to elect the incoming Board of Directors, vote on resolutions including a proposal to update NCARB's governance structure and shape the agenda for the Council's next fiscal year, which began on July 1.

BOARD ELECTIONS

The Board elected the following officers for FY2024:

*Jill Smith, President;
Joey Nolasco, Secretary;
Olivia Davis, Treasurer.*

Since June 21, 1930, the Board continues to serve the Commonwealth by promoting and protecting the public's health, safety and welfare and the built environment for human habitation through the regulation, examination and licensing of architects and certification of interior designers.

ARE CANDIDATE TIPS

RESCHEDULING FEES

NCARB has implemented a new policy for Architect Registration Examination® \(ARE®\) rescheduling fees. The new policy began August 1, 2023:

*The first time a candidate reschedules a previously scheduled exam appointment, it will be free

*The second reschedule of the same appointment will cost $50

*The third and all subsequent reschedules of the same appointment will cost $100

The ARE 5.0 Guidelines now reflects the updated policy, which is intended to ensure that all candidates have access to exam appointment times. For more details: ARE Accommodations Applications Now Available Via My NCARB | NCARB - National Council of Architectural Registration Boards

DOCUMENTING EXPERIENCE

Experience Settings – An ARE® candidate's experience reports will fall under one of two experience settings: setting A or setting O. These settings separate your experience into two categories:

- A: Work performed for an architecture firm.
- O: Experiences that can be performed outside an architecture firm. They serve to define the type of organization, the work performed, and who verifies the experience.

AXP-Guidelines.pdf \(ncarb.org\)

COMPETENCE AS RELATED TO ARE®

Definition of Competence as Related to the ARE®, to protect the health, safety, and welfare of the public, a newly licensed architect practicing independently must demonstrate the competence to be responsible for a project from its inception through completion. This includes, but is not limited to, the ability to:

- *Apply architectural business practices
- *Evaluate legal, ethical, and contractual standards
- *Establish and coordinate project team activities
- *Establish programmatic and regulatory requirements
- *Provide design alternatives
- *Evaluate and incorporate appropriate materials and building systems
- *Provide and coordinate project documentation for a building and site
- *Provide construction phase services
- *Assess the project during all phases
- *Address environmental sustainability, resiliency, and adaptation throughout project design

NCARB SANCTIONS SIX ARE CANDIDATES

The National Council of Architectural Registration Boards (NCARB) has issued sanctions for six candidates who violated the Architect Registration Examination® (ARE®) Candidate Agreement ranging from copying and sharing exam questions to, in some cases, attempting to sell exam questions online. Each case was reviewed independently by NCARB's Professional Conduct Committee. Final disciplinary actions were made by NCARB's Board of Directors at their June 2023 meeting. The candidates received public reprimand, their exam scores have been invalidated for any division taken that was found to have violated Category 1 and/or Category 4. Each candidate has had their testing authorization suspended for a period ranging from 5 years to 12 years from their last testing event. Each candidate is required to complete ethics education ranging from 6 to 10 hours within the next 12 months. Candidates found to have violated Category 4 are also not eligible for the NCARB Certificate for a period of no less than 5 years beginning after they receive a valid license. ### NCARB EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITIES

Indoor Air Quality for Architects: Design Buildings to Promote Health and Wellness, Course 6: IAQ in Practice - Building Case Studies

The course "IAQ in Practice - Building Materials and Finishes" is the fourth of six courses in the course series, "Indoor Air Quality for Architects: Design Buildings to Promote Health and Wellness." This course is designed for architects to consider how the selection of building materials and finishes can either positively or negatively affect the indoor air quality within a building. By leveraging third party resources discussed within this course, making informed design decisions, and creating specific language within construction documents, architects can play a major role in improving indoor air quality both during construction as well as when spaces are occupied. # NCARB's UPDATED GOVERNANCE STRUCTURE

NCARB's Diversity Collaborative and Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion (DEI) Committee, and feedback from NCARB's membership proposed changes to NCARB's leadership structure to ensure that their leadership represents the diversity of their constituents, as well as reducing the time required to join NCARB leadership.

According to NCARB's website, the new changes reduced the officers to a total of four: president, vice president, secretary/treasurer and immediate past president. The membership voted to merge the secretary and treasurer officer positions, eliminate the second vice president position, and add two at-large director positions. This new structure shortens the time required to move into Board leadership and expand the pool of eligible candidates for director positions.

Candidates for the new at-large director positions qualify by either serving for two years on a licensing board or two years on one of NCARB's Board-appointed volunteer efforts. This provides an opportunity to serve on NCARB's Board of Directors to a larger, more diverse group of people, including non-architect members and board executives from NCARB Member Boards as well as architects who have not yet served on a Member Board. The new governance will begin with elections to NCARB's FY25 Board of Directors in June 2024

The Professional Difference Between "Interior Designer" and "Interior Decorator"

Many people use the terms "interior design" and "interior decorating" interchangeably, but these professions differ in critical ways.

Interior design is the art and science of understanding people's behavior to create functional spaces within a building. Decoration is the furnishing or adorning of a space with fashionable or beautiful things. In short, interior designers may decorate, but decorators do not design.

Interior designers apply creative and technical solutions within a structure that are functional, attractive and beneficial to the occupants' quality of life and culture. Designs respond to and coordinate with the building shell and acknowledge the physical location and social context of the project.

Designs must adhere to code and regulatory requirements and encourage the principles of environmental sustainability.

The interior design process follows a systematic and coordinated methodology including research, analysis and integration of knowledge into the creative process to satisfy the client's needs and resources.

U.S. states and Canadian provinces have passed laws requiring interior designers to be licensed or registered and to document their formal education and training. Many states and provinces also specifically require all practicing interior designers to earn the NCIDQ Certification to demonstrate their experience and qualifications. By contrast, interior decorators require no formal training or licensure.

Unlocking Continuing Education: Benefits of CAAK A Vital Resource for Kentucky Architects

As a practicing architect dedicated to advancing our profession, I write to you today with a testament to positive influences that the Code Administrators Association of Kentucky (CAAK) has had on my career. I am delighted to share my experience as a member of CAAK since 2009, and how it has significantly enriched my journey.

Throughout my professional career, CAAK has been instrumental in enhancing my expertise through its diverse range of educational opportunities. These programs obviously meet our state board's minimum continuing education (CE) requirements. However, in my opinion, CAAK has further offered me a crucial conduit to maintain and advance my knowledge and skills specific to safeguarding public health, safety, and welfare (HSW). i.e. 201 KAR 19:087 \(3\)

The 2022 Analysis of Practice (AOP) study conducted by NCARB underscored the imperative to enhance HSW education. This resonates with CAAK's core mission, making it an invaluable resource for architects. By engaging with CAAK, I have fortified my own knowledge and tools necessary to implement model codes efficiently and effectively. CE seminars, workshops, and conferences should empower us to create spaces that not only inspire but also safeguard the public and adhere to the most recent code standards.

The organization not only fulfills my HSW continuing education requirements but also serves as a vibrant hub for networking and knowledge exchange. CAAK's strategic partnerships with the American Institute of Architects (AIA) and the International Code Council (ICC) help to bridge support between many professional connections. CAAK helps educate building inspectors, fire officials, contractors, engineers, architects, and others in related fields. My membership has offered me rare bonding opportunities, creating relationships with officials throughout the state.

CAAK has been a cornerstone of my growth as an architect. The organization's dedication to education, adherence to model codes, and strategic alliances with industry leaders make it an indispensable asset for architects in Kentucky.

I encourage my fellow architects to explore the transformative benefits of CAAK membership. Together, we can help elevate our profession and proactively promote education opportunities geared toward protecting the safety and well-being of our communities.

IN MEMORIAM

Chenault (Chenny) Woodford of Mt Sterling, Kentucky, died on July 6, after a long illness. He was a graduate of the College of Design at the University of Kentucky, from which he received a degree in engineering and architecture. He served as an officer with the U.S. Air Force and the Air Force Reserves, before being honorably discharged with the rank as Captain. Mr. Woodford was a founding member of the Chrisman, Miller & Wallace Firm, and later Director of Operations, Director of Equine and Justice Divisions, and also President and Chairman of the Board of Chrisman, Miller & Woodford (CMW). He loved the practice of architecture and reveled in sharing his strengths and talents with his mentees. Mr. Woodford is survived by his wife Donna, his son, William Anderson Woodford, his stepson, Brian Glover (Rae Lyn Glover), and granddaughter Grace Glover.
