BOA PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Greetings!

I hope you and your family are having a wonderful summer. It is certainly welcomed after a long fifteen months of the COVID-19 Pandemic. We all had to make extraordinary adjustments to a new lifestyle of living and conducting business in order to survive the pandemic. I am very proud of our staff and fellow board members for adjusting to online meetings to ensure our service to the great Commonwealth of Kentucky continues safely.

The 2022 Architect Annual Renewal period is in full effect and will officially end at midnight on August 30, 2021. Please be advised that renewals received after July 1, and not later than July 31, will be assessed a $25.00 late fee in addition to the renewal fee of $125.00. Those renewals received on or after August 1 and no later than August 31 will be assessed a $50.00 late fee in addition to the renewal fee of $125.00. If the office does not receive a renewal by August 30, the Architect's license will be automatically revoked.

If a licensed Architect is no longer during business in Kentucky, they may select the option to Voluntary Surrender of License to the Board. This option would relieve the Architect from paying the annual renewal fee; however, within five years from the time of surrender of the license, the Architect may again qualify without examination by the payment of the required fee and current renewal fee. After five years, the Architect shall return as a new applicant.

The online renewal for Certified Interior Designers is scheduled to begin on September 1, 2021. As a reminder, twelve Professional Development Units are the continuing educational requirements. Eight of those PDU's are required to be "health, safety, and welfare" subject actives.

The online meetings have worked well, but I look forward to face-to-face meetings in the future. Please continue to stay safe and healthy and contact me or our staff any time that you have a question or concern.

Sincerely,

President, Kentucky Board of Architects

“A History of The Profession of Architecture in Kentucky”

Written by C. Julian Oberwarth, FAIA

Additional Material and Editing by: William B. Scott, Jr.

The book encapsulates the extraordinary history, culture, and feel of architects throughout Kentucky from the 1930’s to 1986. From the amateur builder-architects to the foundation of the Board of Architects, this book gives you a vivid insight into how this industry started and flourished in the Commonwealth.

Why Certification Matters.....

Certification is the difference between a profession and an occupation. A profession is a vocation founded upon extensive training and specialized knowledge whereas an occupation does not require specialized education.

An NCIDQ certified designer is an interior design professional that has distinguished themselves from other designers in the field by obtaining a college degree, completed verified work experience under another NCIDQ certified designer or architect, and passed the NCIDQ Exam - a rigorous three part exam that covers buildings systems, codes, construction standards, contract administration, design application, professional practice, and project coordination. You can have confidence when selecting an NCIDQ certified designer that they work to create and make design selections and decisions with public health, safety, and welfare in mind, delivering a solution that fully performs to your specific needs while meeting code and professional practice standards.

What is the future of Interior Design?

The future of interior design is going to consist of the following: technology, efficiency, and virtual reality.

NCARB 2020 Demographics' Chart

NCARB Demographics: AXP and ARE

NCARB continued to see near equal representation of men and women early on the path to licensure, with women accounting for 47 percent of individuals reporting hours toward the experience program and 46 percent of individuals testing.

Racial and ethnic diversity increased or held steady at all career stages in 2020. However, it is worth noting that 2020's increases in racial and ethnic diversity are limited to the Asian and Hispanic or Latino population. The proportion of African American candidates in the profession has seen little change over the past decade and continues to be underrepresented when compared to the U.S. Census data.

Though women and people of color remain underrepresented within the profession overall, 2020's data suggests that the gradual improvements in early career stages seen in recent years are beginning to filter through to later stages on the path to licensure.

In Memoriam

On May 8, 2021, famous architect Helmut Jahn actually known as “Flash Gordon of America” died in a traffic accident. He failed to stop at a stop sign and was hit by two vehicles. He was 81 years old and lived on a horse farm in Saint Charles, Illinois. Mr. Jahn was famous for his architect designs in Washington, D.C., Berlin, and the Chicago Skyline.

Licensed Kentucky Architect Vincent Dombek died on February 19, 2021. Mr. Dombek was a member of A.I.A. He was an avid sportsman who loved fishing and hunting. He was a proud woodworker, enjoyed working with stained glass and was a Hill Boy until the end.

“Success on one project does not necessarily mean success in the next project. You've got to be prepared in everything you do.” Helmut Jahn
